

The warmth of wood combined with the durability of aluminum. Load-bearing structures in aluminum with thermal break or insulated, to optimize air conditioning costs, light structural elements with an elegant design that are well suited to the needs of those who want to combine design and functionality. Technologically advanced, made with certified and highly selected materials, the movable covers proposed adapt perfectly to any natural or architectural context, fully customizable, designed for insertion into new structures or existing systems. Professional support and assistance combined with tailor-made consultancy and design services complete the company's offer, which is strongly oriented towards achieving goals of efficiency and punctuality in customer service. Ten-year warranty on all elements means certainty of operation and use without significant maintenance interventions. All this is Lynxtechnologies, your reliable partner for the realization of innovative projects.

tailor-made

private spas & swimming pools spa private spa private spa private spa private spa private spa private spa private

